Glen Anil forms part of the Durban North Suburbs. The node lays on the east and west of Old North Coast Road which links onto Chris Hanani Road and the R102. The area is easily accessible from the N2 freeway. A massive logistics park development of approximately 55 ha is currently in construction phase with five boxes already completed and tenanted. The park is state of the art with massive eave height and super link accessibility. Further growth is planned for the area, as a new development will take place
